PSED (Nurture groups)	Personal, social and emotional development will be covered throughout the year during small nurture groups where the children will be able to explore emotions and build relationships with their key worker, other children and other adults. The children will be getting used to their daily routine. They will start to choose their activities independently.
ICT	The children have access to the computers on a daily basis where they learn skills such as using the mouse correctly and accessing age appropriate programmes to develop children’s ability and independence when using the computer.
